

Angela Good

Administrative Assistant

Angela “Angie” Good is the Administrative Assistant for the Innovative Nuclear Research Integration Office (INR-IO) under the Department of Energy Office of Nuclear Energy (NE). The INR-IO helps run the Nuclear Energy University Program (NEUP) and other competitive programs. As the administrative assistant, Good helps to keep the team organized, manages scheduling, contributes to important reports, and maintains a detail-oriented team.

Prior to the INR-IO, Good worked as the project coordinator for the K-12 STEM Program at Idaho National Laboratory. Good has almost 15 years of experience in educational outreach and became a driving force in that field. Her dedication to students in STEM-related fields is what drew her to work with NE educational programs.

If you’d like to learn more about NEUP or other competitive programs, contact Angie Good or visit the NEUP website.
