

Jenna Payne

Program Manager, NE University and Competitive Research Team

Jenna Payne is a program manager under the Office of Nuclear Energy's (NE) University and Competitive Research Team. In this role, Payne provides oversight to the university programs R&D portfolio as well as NE's scholarship and fellowship opportunities under the University Nuclear Leadership Program. Payne also leads the team's communications and outreach efforts.

Prior to working with NE, Payne worked at the Idaho National Laboratory supporting NE's competitive funding opportunities.

